

Global Impact Coalition Innovation Ecosystem

Terms & Conditions

By submitting your interest or application via this page, you agree to the following terms:

1. Use of Information

The information you provide will be used by the Global Impact Coalition (GIC) for the sole purpose of evaluating your organization's fit for potential collaboration opportunities and project participation.

2. Confidentiality

GIC will treat all submitted materials as confidential and will not share them outside the organization or with third parties without prior consent, except in cases where disclosure is necessary to advance due diligence or project selection.

3. Non-Binding

Submission of interest does not create any binding obligation for either party. GIC reserves the right to accept, reject, or request further information at its sole discretion.

4. Accuracy of Information

You confirm that the information provided is accurate and complete to the best of your knowledge. False or misleading submissions may result in disqualification from consideration.

5. No Intellectual Property Transfer

Submission does not constitute any transfer or licensing of intellectual property. All IP remains with the original holder unless explicitly agreed otherwise in a subsequent agreement.

By continuing with your submission, you acknowledge and accept these terms.